Jeremy Worley joined Northern Kentucky Tri-County Economic Development Corporation (Tri-ED) as Client Relations Manager in November 2019. He works with Tri-ED's clients, companies considering a new location or expansion in Northern Kentucky, to make the best business investment decision. By listening to clients and understanding their business, Jeremy brings his continual improvement approach to develop recommendations and create solutions to facilitate a company's decision or help solve challenges they may be facing.

Most recently, Jeremy was the Program Development Director for The Center for Local Government where he helped local governments share services and information in order to provide better services and governance. Jeremy has created solutions improving collaboration and teamwork, design, workflow, quality control and more.

Jeremy earned his Master of Public Administration and a bachelor's degree in Political Science from Northern Kentucky University. He is passionate about lean six sigma implementation and organizational leadership.

He currently serves on the Transit Advisory Board for Bellevue, KY where he lives with his wife. Jeremy believes Northern Kentucky is a great place to live, work and play. In his spare time, he enjoys hiking, biking and kayaking throughout the Cincinnati region.
